

EVERGREEN

To Mr. Mark Farmaner
Director
Burma Campaign UK

Dear Mr. Farmaner

Thank you for your e-mail on January 18, 2022. We would like to inform you that neither Evergreen Group nor Evergreen Marine Corporation does business with the military in Burma. As such, it would seem inappropriate to place the companies within Burma Campaign UK's Dirty List.

Regarding the incidents to which you refer whereby two of the company's ships have been serviced at the military-owned Hteedan Port Terminal in Yangon, we would like to clarify that such arrangements were made by our local terminal partner Asia World Port Terminal (AWPT). When AWPT does not have sufficient capacity to handle all arriving vessels, the terminal operator may occasionally assign ships to berth at the neighboring Hteedan Port Terminal. AWPT is a private port terminal contracted to handle Evergreen's ships in Yangon, however Evergreen does not interfere in AWPT's operations as a service provider. Evergreen has no direct arrangement of any sort with Hteedan Port Terminal.

It is Evergreen's corporate mission to provide efficient and reliable marine transportation services to exporters and importers around the globe. We continually work with our service partners to keep the global supply chain moving as smoothly as possible. The efficiency of our service is vital to assure that essential supplies, such as personal protective equipment, medical supplies and food can be delivered with little delay, especially during the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic. As a consequence, we respect AWPT's decision to assign our ship to other terminals when its own facility is at peak capacity and delays in unloading would occur without modification to their original intentions. Such alternative arrangements contribute to shortening vessel operation times, ensure faster delivery of essential supplies and help keep people safe and healthy.
